

Every Teardrop

Lyric by: Martin H. Samuel your love affairs begin burning like fever in the spring

'mm then drift away on the summer wind and I'm thinking of you how good it used to be holding on to precious memories and every little teardrop ~ every little teardrop every teardrop ~ brings me back to you your lovers come and go changing like autumn leaves that fall 'mm then melt away with the winter snow and I'm dreaming of you things we used to do holding out for baby's eyes of blue every little teardrop ~ every little teardrop

some day some way you're gonna meet someone and I'll be there with love to share when everyone has gone

and every little teardrop ~ every little teardrop

every little teardrop ~ has a tale to tell teardrop ~ fills a wishing well teardrop ~ brings me back to you

every little teardrop ~ every little teardrop

every little teardrop ...
