

Until the Next Time

Lyric by: Martin H. Samuel

I've been waiting for the phone to ring there are times when I'm unsure anticipating what the mailman brings sometimes I feel so insecure but I've got better things to do than looking forward to memories I have yet to make some day with somebody new so until the next time I feel the need to cry I won't go walking in the rain no until the next time I see you smiling eyes I won't fall I love again are you my future are you my past there are times when I have doubts contemplating will tomorrow last sometimes I feel left out but I know better than to wish for the loving that I miss heaven I have yet to taste some day in somebody's kiss

so until the next time I feel the need to cry
I won't go walking in the rain
no until the next time I see you smiling eyes

I won't go walking in the rain
no until the next time I see you smiling eyes

so until the next time – until the next time I won't go walking in the rain no until the next time – until the next time I won't fall I love again
